For Candidates (Faculty & Academics)

Overview:

Faculty and non-faculty academics may play several roles in the Advance system:

- All faculty and non-faculty academics may be a candidate for an academic action.
- Only faculty may request Academic Leave.
- Some faculty and non-faculty academics may be asked to provide References for candidates.
- Some faculty and non-faculty academics may be asked to preview packets that are created to support an academic action.

Shown below are some slideshows and PowerPoint’s to give you a better understanding of the process of Advance:

What is Advance?

General Overview of the Advance Application [1] (5 min., 30 sec.)

What role does an APA play in Advance?

APA Introduction to Advance [2] (9 min., 15 sec.)

What is ‘The Eligibility List’?

The Eligibility List [3] (5 min., 30 sec.)

Navigating and Interacting with Packets

Creating and Managing Packets [4] (6 min., 30 sec.)

Understanding how the References work

The Reference Process [5] (14 min.)

How does the routing process work?
The Routing Process [6] (3 min., 45 sec.)

Who deals with packets? What are they able to do?

Packet Decision and Status [7] (7 min.)

What am I able to do with Appointment?

Appointments [8] (8 min., 30 sec.)

Additional Information:

Advance and the Electronic Packet, Campus Presentation, April 5, 2011 9
The Electronic Packet and the On-Line Review Process 10
Advance Technical Information 12

© 2015 The Regents of the University of California

Source URL: https://advancesupport.ucsf.edu/article/candidates-faculty-academics-0

Links
[12] http://it.ucsf.edu/services/advance